JUN 26 2018

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am a candidate for the US House of Representatives for Congressional District 2 in Colorado, running for the Libertarian Party.

I have been trying to call your helpline for the last two days. No one answers and the voicemail box is usually full, although I did leave one message, to which no one has responded. I have questions about my filing which I have been unable to ask due to your failure to respond to my phone calls. Since my filing date is rapidly approaching, and I will shortly be travelling, I am sending you this letter instead.

1. I have received two mailings from you. The first, which was undated, claimed a filing deadline of 6/5/2018 and included a username for online reporting of RogBar945. (A copy of this is enclosed.) I am not sure of the arrival date of this mailing, but I am highly confident that it arrived only shortly before or after 6/5/2018. In addition, this filing date is not in accordance with my legal obligation to file only within 30 days of my campaign spending at least $5,000, which threshold I hit on June 1, 2018. I am therefore disregarding this mailing which I assume was sent in error.
2. I have today filed the bulk of my financial disclosure electronically under the username of RogBar399, which is the username assigned to me in the second mailing that I have received from you. (A copy of this second username assignment is also enclosed.) I have included a copy of my electronic filing with this letter.
3. My understanding – although the instructions are far from clear – is that I have to disclose investments from 2017 that generated at least $200 of income. In 2017, I held many CDs and municipal bond investments which met this threshold. Reporting each of these electronically would be burdensome and pointless, since these investments have already matured and they are of the type extremely unlikely to create a conflict of interest. Therefore, in lieu of reporting these electronically, I am providing in this letter a tax statement from my broker showing all of these investments.

If you have any questions or comments about this letter, or my filing, then please contact me as indicated above.

Sincerely yours,

Roger Barris
